To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend Nelsa Farrugia of Mexico Cultural Travel for any upcoming trips that may require her services. Most recently, I utilized Nelsa's services for a four-day custom trip through Mexico City. Our Patrons and I could not be more pleased with Nelsa's kind and insightful guidance, both during the planning phase of our trip and throughout the trip itself.

Most importantly, Nelsa understood the needs of our patrons and was able to navigate the group's various interests. While in Mexico City, Nelsa was able to utilize her connections and knowledge of the city to help and construct an experience that was specifically tailored for our audience. With Nelsa's guidance and knowledge of the city, our group viewed culturally significant art collections and galleries and was able to access top artists' studios. We all enjoyed her energetic presence and the high level of attention she paid to our group. Her awareness of detail was appreciated and visible from the cultural activities we visited to the carefully chosen dining experiences.

I believe that Nelsa Farrugia's services would be a valuable addition to any travel experience in Mexico.

Sincerely,
